Exploring the Paths of Brookline is a comprehensive guide to the 17 pedestrian-only paths in Brookline, MA an historic street-car suburb of Boston. The guide is richly illustrated with over 18 maps and 20 color photographs. The historical context of the paths' creation is covered, including the involvement of the famous landscape architect, F.L. Olmsted. Planning and design considerations, and observations about the experience of walking the paths are also included. Each path is given a page in the guide which includes a location map, data on the path's physical characteristics, a descriptive photograph, and comments on the path's most interesting features. At the back of the guide a fold out map identifies all of the paths and delineates suggested walking routes.
