Psychologists agree that one of the major problems of our modern generations is a lack of self-esteem, the feeling that one is worthless and that the future holds little or nothing for an individual. Even many Christians struggle with feelings of worthlessness, inadequacy, and lack of direction, often leading them to depression and despair. Ray Llarena knows what it is to feel worthless. Born into a humble situation, he was limited in his early education, and many said that he would never achieve anything of value in his life. He was able to prove them wrong only because there came a point in his life where he discovered that he was important to God and that God had a great plan for him. That changed everything. Here, through the seemingly insignificant creatures of Proverbs 30, he challenges his readers to know their true potential in God.
