Excerpt from Syria Publications of the Princeton University Archaeological, Expeditions to Syria: Geography and Itierary

In consequence of the death of Professor Butler, the promoter and director of these expeditions, and because of various accidents, the publication of this volume has been long delayed. Consequently the conditions to which it refers as of the present time are those of the years 1905 or 1909. Wherever there is a discrepancy between the form or spelling of geographical names in the text and on the various maps, the form given in the text and index of this volume should be regarded as the more accurate and reliable. A good many alterations have been made by the editors in the narrative written originally by Mr. Stoever from the notes of Mr. Norris. Few changes have been made in Professor Butlers narrative of the experiences of the Expedition of 1909, which was found with the account of the Expedition of 1904 1905 as if intended for publication with it. But Professor Butler himself did not send this narrative to the publisher, nor was his the final hand to revise its text.
